- Look for folder in the local folder? Is there a built-in way to look for a folder in the local folder? I'm looking for something to look like this: /my/path/to/controller/myfolder/mycontroller.cs A: You can use System.IO to obtain the name of the directory: string dir = Path.GetDirectoryName(Server.MapPath("~/")); And then use Path.Combine to combine this with the name of your folder. Most of the time you won't have to deal with these issues, as they will be taken care of by us. If you ever do have any problems, we'll be in touch and even offer a return option. We're here to take care of you. 90 DAYS AND A FULL REFUND GUARANTEE That's all we ask. If you're not 100% satisfied with your mattress for any reason, we'll work with you to get you a full refund. Our cool overnight shipping comes with our no-hassle terms and conditions. Ordering a sheet set? Get a free steamy bath right here. It's not complicated. It's not hidden. And, it's not a scam. Enormous savings when you buy directly from us. Our prices are unmatched by other retailers. We sell in your size, we fill it and we ship it for free. Shipping prices are the lowest in the business. Our shipping price is $10. Our cost is $10. You pay $10. Our cost is $0. They're just not worth it. We're the local solution for mattress cover set shipping. We're not the US chain stores. Shipping starts at $5. We're local!

you are watching us in your database for the first time - we'd like to thank you for taking the time and for being a part of our site. For those of you interested in choosing a domain name or web hosting with us, thanks to you we can host more websites than ever before. The first update of the SMACK site was in late 2004 and since then we have been maintaining it to keep it active, keeping it up to date and available. We also have a forum (and a little bit of a community) for all our users. With the new year we have upgraded our site to a new programming language, php 5, which is much faster and has more features.#include
